The shelter that isn't.

Homeless in Lee County

Alex Dezanett

Why?
 "I wasn't doing too good, and I didn't like it."
 So what did you do?
 "I got a job with a pallet company, but I got into an argument with the boss."
 What led you to homelessness?
 "I couldn't get a job, so I just became homeless."
 Are you happy?
 "Sort of."
 Do you want better?
 "Yeah. I would do work. Right now I pick up cans, and whatever scraps the Lord leads me to."
 What do you eat?
 "I get Ramen noodles from the dollar store. Some people give me food."
 What do you keep on your bike?
 "Everything. I have clothes, blankets, a pillow."

Alex came to Beattyville to stay with his father, Donald, who recently lost his home and became homeless. That sent Alex back out on the streets.

When talking with the people at Beattyville Housing, he told them that all he needs is a tent.

While still being interviewed at the agency's office, a worker came in the room and told Alex that she was going to Walmart in Jackson. The store had agreed to give a two-person tent. Finally, Alex has a home.

He is the face of homelessness in Lee County.

Alex Dezanett can be seen pushing his used-to-be motorized, small wheel bike around Beattyville. It is loaded with all of his worldly possessions.

The 40-year-old native of Toledo, OH recently sat down with The Beattyville Enterprise to talk about how he came to be homeless and in Lee County.

How old are you?
 "I was born in 1971."
 What date?
 "I don't keep up with things like that."
 Where are you from?
 "I was born and raised in Toledo."
 What about school?
 "I dropped out in the 11th grade."

Homeless shelter sits empty and cold

People shivering on park benches and huddled under cardboard in a major city is the image most people have of the homeless. The Washington Post reported Monday that the National Center for Family Homelessness says that almost one in 30 children experience homelessness, and the rate of child homelessness in Kentucky is the worst in the country.

While that is all too true, it is also true that Lee and Owsley counties have a homeless problem and there is no room in the inn.

Wilma Kelley, executive director of Beattyville Housing, says that a day does not go by that her office receives at least one call from a homeless person or someone wanting to help.

Her office has helped approximately 150 people with a homeless issue in the two counties over the past two years.

Not all of them are homeless, she says. Some are almost there. They need help with rent or utilities. That is homeless prevention, Kelley says.

However, there are far too many that have already lost their home.

Lee County Public Aid Coordinator Lisa Moore says that she dealt with five such people on the day before cold weather was about to hit.

"If a person becomes homeless they need to come to me through the (county) judge/executive's office," she said in a recent interview.

"We get at least five new people a week," she adds.

The emergency shelter building located in West Beattyville looks complete from the outside, but the proposed temporary home for the homeless is cold and unfinished inside. There is no electricity or heat. There is also no plumbing.

"Construction had to be stopped," Kelley said, "because the code enforcement office said so."

"If we can get the plans approved, we could get the funds from churches and other places to complete the building."

Kelley received a July 1 letter from State Plan Reviewer Amy L. Eveler saying, "Construction of the project shall not begin until you receive authorization from this office. If construction has started, you shall cease until the authorization to proceed is issued."

Eveler said in her letter that, "Corrected plans shall be submitted to this office as soon as possible. If corrected plans are not received by January 3, 2015, this office will consider the application for permit void. Once the application for permit has become void, the plans on record will be destroyed. Should you wish to construct this project after the application is void, you may do so by resubmitting the plans and fee through the normal plan submission process."

There are then 13 deficiencies noted in the plans, down from 30 cited in a November 27, 2013 letter. Only three of the deficiencies are in both letters, which means 10 new ones have been added. They range from assurance that the Kentucky Workers' Compensation and Unemployment Insurance Law be included to "door handles, pulls, latches, and locks shall not require tight grasping, tight pinching or twisting of the wrist to operate."

Work on the building has primarily been done by volunteers, starting several years ago with Habitat for Humanity.

Plans have been put together also by volunteers.

And, while the building sits, empty and cold, homeless people in Lee and Owsley counties must look for a bench or cardboard.

The need for an emergency shelter became apparent Monday when a power outage hit Beattyville and parts of Lee County.

Lee County Rescue Squad Captain Greg Angel said that one family lost heat and had to be temporarily housed in the squad's building, which is next to the uncompleted shelter.

He said there is a list of 25 or so families that could need help under such circumstances.

"We don't have the room for all of them," he said.

He said that 911 Dispatch had helped during the emergency by keeping him posted of road conditions in case people needed assistance.

The Enterprise contacted Gov. Steve Beshear's office Tuesday for comment on the status of the project.

That office forwarded the inquiry to the Division of Building Code Enforcement.

Dick Brown, executive director of the Office of Communications and Public Outreach, responded in an email concerning the two project requests from Kelley, "...neither of which was granted due to numerous deficiencies in the plans that were submitted."

Police follow-up in Lutes killing

Kentucky State Police are following up on information they have in the shooting death of Patricia C. Lutes, according to Trooper Robert Purdy.

Purdy, who is the public information officer in the Richmond Post, said Tuesday that there is nothing new yet in the investigation.

He did say that a bullet was recovered in the November 10 shooting outside of Lutes' home at 8523 KY 2016.

According to Lee County Coroner Ray Shuler, 36-year-old Lutes was shot one time in the left side. She died on her way to a landing zone.

Purdy said the bullet is being analyzed at the state police crime lab. He said such specific information as the caliber of the bullet would probably not be released.

Anyone with information about the shooting is asked to contact Kentucky State Police at (859) 623-2404.

Down line causes brown-out

A downed power line in either the Bear Track or Yellow Rock areas of Lee County caused a power outage Monday for 3,285 customers of Kentucky Utilities.

According to KU Spokesperson Cliff Feltham, the outage was from 12:07 p. m.

to 1:42 p. m.

Feltham said the cause of the line to fall is not known.

A facebook friend of the Enterprise contacted the paper saying she did not have power restored until 5:30 p. m.

Sheriff gets good audit

The state auditor's office Monday released its 2013 financial audit of Lee County Sheriff Wendell Childers, Jr., finding only one small area for comment.

That comment, which is typical for small offices, is that the office lacks adequate segregation of duties.

According to a press release about the audit, the auditor's office says, "The Sheriff's office lacks adequate segregation of duties for receipts. Due to the entity's diversity of official operations, small size,

Courthouse, grounds tobacco-free

The Lee County Courthouse, along with its parking areas and grounds, will be tobacco free starting this Thursday, November 20, by order of the state commissioner of the Department for Facilities & Support Services.

Notices of the policy have been posted on the courthouse for several months, but a letter from Commissioner Sam Ruth was shared with members of the fiscal court last Thursday.

In the October 27 letter, Ruth quotes an executive order that says, "The use of tobacco, any tobacco product, and any electronic cigarette or vaping device shall be prohibited on all properties owned, leased, or contracted for use by the Executive Branch of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, including but not limited to all buildings or portions of buildings, land and vehicles owned, leased, or contracted for use by the agencies or instrumentalities of the Executive Branch of the Commonwealth of Kentucky over which the Finance and Administration Cabinet has control."

The state offices of Protection and Permanency along with Family Support are located in the courthouse, and those employees park near the building. The county is paid by the state for rental of that space.

Our children, are paying attention

By Rep. Leslie Combs

Like virtually every voter, I thought the most recent election season was especially tiring and trying. There has to be a better way, I said.

And then I found it at Pikeville Elementary School, which I visited earlier this month to discuss the legislative process with more than 100 sixth graders. As a state representative for nearly eight years, I had been invited to talk about the real-world application of what they had been studying, but left feeling that I was the one who had actually learned more.

The experience convinced me that every single candidate seeking office should face a group of students as well-informed and curious as these. They may not be old enough to vote, but they certainly know how to cut through the clutter that turns complicated issues into soundbites and the trivial into something more overblown than it deserves.

Our time together – which was part of the Family Resource and Youth Services Center's Legislative Page for a Day contest – began with a fun exercise that had them separate into two groups representing the House and Senate. They then debated the merits of a “bill” that would add 15 minutes to their recess, so they could see how an idea becomes law.

Afterward, I spent the remainder of the lesson answering their questions. Their inquisitiveness showed that this year's campaigns made a deep impression on them, as did the negative ads often accompanying high-profile races.

As a result, they wanted to know why candidates seem to focus more on tearing their opponent down and less on what they hope to build up. They also wondered about the views of our political parties and the role these parties play in running government.

They then asked if there really is a war on coal and how we, as elected officials, are responding to conditions often beyond our control. For these students, this issue goes far beyond the textbook and what they see in the news; they've witnessed the impact first-hand – in many cases, within their own families. They're starting to understand that their future is going to be different than our past.

I told them that we were trying to improve their access to education and to make the region more attractive for economic development. I told them we are facing a steep challenge, but that we had overcome steep challenges before.

They then asked how they could contribute, to make a difference. I cannot begin to explain how heartening that was, and I'm hoping their enthusiasm will not dim as they get older. That kind of civic pride is exactly the tonic our political system needs and deserves.

Our time was up before their questions were, but I considered that a mark of a successful visit. I had given each of them their own copy of the U.S. and Kentucky constitutions, and it meant so much that many asked me to sign theirs before I left.

There is a proverb that says we do not inherit the Earth from our ancestors; we borrow it from our children. The same can be said of our government, and it's something I think all of us – voters and officials alike – must keep in mind with the decisions we make. We need to do the right thing because it's the right thing to do, even if it may not be the most popular.

Our children, as I was reminded early this month, are paying attention.

There will be many homemade items and baked goods to help out with your Thanksgiving dinner and Christmas Shopping. Refreshments will be served and we invite you to enjoy a fun time of good Christian fellowship.

Due to the Thanksgiving holiday, the office of The Beattyville Enterprise will be closed Thursday and Friday, November 27 and 28. Because of that, deadlines for next week's newspaper will be moved back one day. All ads and stories need to be in the office by noon on Monday, November 24.
Happy Thanksgiving.

“Courthouse” from Front

The county has been allowing smoking outside of the building, especially on the front steps.

Also, some smokers have been lighting up at the top of the steps on the third floor outside of the circuit courtroom. Smoking in that area has been banned for some time, and some people have been fined.

The members of the fiscal court approved the application and ordinance process for Deputy Lee County Sheriff Matthew Eversole to participate in the Kentucky Law Enforcement Foundation Program Fund. It is a training incentive program.

Beattyville Assembly Operation Christmas Child

Submitted by Allen Booth

During one of the services at the Beattyville Assembly of God, members were shown the impact of Operation Christmas Child. The video showed the thousands of people involved in a ministry that was begun by Franklin Graham. Very detailed instructions are given as to how to pack the “shoebox,” but more importantly, what the box should contain. They suggested items like paper, pencils, crayons, bar soap, tooth brushes, wash cloths, toys, hard candies, clothing, underwear, etc. There are three age groups targeted: 2-4, 5-9, and 10-14. Also, the box should indicate whether it is for a boy or a girl. There is a $7.00 shipping fee for each box. One trip to the dollar store will provide all the items for the shoebox. The video also shows the various modes of transportation for delivering these Christmas boxes. These include airplanes, ships, oxen, horses, and even elephants. They are heavily laden with “hope” in the form of a shoebox. What cannot be described in mere words is the expression of abject joy recorded on the young faces when they receive their individual shoebox. In broader terms, it is an affirmation that someone in a faraway place thought enough of them to send the only gift that they will receive. For some, it is the evidence of love, but for others it offers the absolute proof of God and His love.

Several years ago, there was a young girl that had prayed and asked if God was really real to send her a pair of shoes, which she badly needed. That year out of over 7,000,000 shoeboxes, the girl received a pair of shoe in her perfect size!

This past Sunday morning, Pastor Keith Holley and the congregation dedicated many beautiful Operation Christmas Child Boxes. The boxes will be taken to Winchester where they will be consolidated with hundreds of other boxes.

Godspeed!

“Sheriff” from Front

and budget restricts, the Sheriff has limited options for establishing an adequate segregation of duties.”

The auditor recommends, “The Sheriff should assign the function of depositing cash to other office staff or he should periodically compare the bank deposit to the daily checkout sheet and then compare the daily checkout sheet to the receipts ledger. He should document this by initialing the bank deposit, daily checkout sheet, and receipts ledger.”

Three other recommendations follow along that same vein.

Childers responded, “Due to lack of funds our office is unable to give duties to different helpers, as we only have one full time and one part time office help.”

Eye to Eye

with David Blandford, M.D.

THE SIGHT OF BLOOD IN YOUR EYE

While the mere sight of a broken blood vessel on the white of the eye (sclera) is enough to raise concerns, the condition known as a “subconjunctival hemorrhage” is usually a harmless condition. Because neither pain nor changes in vision are involved, many people do not realize that they have the characteristic bright red patches on the whites of their eyes until they see them in the mirror. Causes can range from a violent cough or sneeze to vomiting or heavy lifting. In some cases, eye trauma or roughly rubbing the eyes is enough to cause rupturing of the blood vessels underneath the clear surface of the eye (conjunctiva). In most cases, the body reabsorbs the blood within two weeks.

As a rule, subconjunctival hemorrhage is usually benign, causing no vision problems or significant eye discomfort despite its conspicuous appearance. But eye redness can be a sign of other types of potentially serious eye. Our goal at KENTUCKY EYE INSTITUTE is to provide you with quality, convenient, affordable eye care while giving you the personal attention you deserve. NOTICE

Notice is hereby given that, in a November 26, 2014 Application, Kentucky Utilities Company is seeking approval by the Public Service Commission of an adjustment of electric rates and charges proposed to become effective on and after January 1, 2015.

KU CURRENT AND PROPOSED ELECTRIC RATES

	Residential Service - Rate RS
	Current	Proposed
Basic Service Charge per Month:	$10.75	$18.00
Energy Charge per kWh:	$ 0.07744	$ 0.08057
Availability of Service: Text proposed to be added to clarify that single phase service is for secondary service only.

Residential Time-of-Day Energy Service - Rate RTOD-Energy

Current – This rate schedule is not currently available.
Proposed
Basic Service Charge per Month:		$18.00
Plus an Energy Charge per kWh:
Off-Peak Hours		$ 0.05100
On-Peak Hours		$ 0.25874
Availability of Service: Service under this rate schedule is limited to a maximum of five hundred (500) customers taking service on RTOD-Energy and RTOD-Demand combined that are eligible for Rate RS. This service is also available to customers on Rate Schedule GS (where the GS service is used in conjunction with an RS service to provide service to a detached garage and energy usage is no more than 300 kWh per month) who demonstrate power delivered to such detached garage is consumed in part for the powering of low emission vehicles licensed for operation on public street or highways. A customer electing to take service under this rate schedule who subsequently elects to take service under the standard Rate RS may not be allowed to return to this optional rate for 12 months from the date of exiting the rate schedule.
Determination of Pricing Periods: Pricing periods are established in Eastern Standard Time year round by season for weekdays and weekends.
Summer Period - Five Billing Periods of May through September
Weekdays: Off Peak (5pm-1pm), On Peak (1pm-5pm)

(a) Making a monthly Excess Facilities charge payment equal to the installed cost of the excess facilities times the following percentage:
Percentage with No Contribution-in-Aid-of-Construction	1.24%	1.24%
(b) Making a one-time Contribution-in-Aid-of-Construction equal to the installed cost of the excess facilities plus a monthly Excess Facilities Charge payment equal to the installed cost of the excess facilities times the following percentage:
Percentage with Contribution-in-Aid-of-Construction	0.48%	0.48%

Net Metering Service – Rate NMS

Company proposes text changes to the definition of “Billing Period Credit” to clarify that such a credit is a kWh-denominated electricity credit only, not a monetary credit. Company further proposes text changes to the Metering and Billing section to clarify how the Company accounts for billing period credits for customers taking service under time-of-day rates.

Standard Rider for Redundant Capacity Charge – Rider RC
Capacity Reservation Charge per Month:	Current (Per kW/kVA)	Proposed (Per kW/kVA)
Secondary Distribution	$1.49	$1.12
Primary Distribution	$1.25	$1.11

Standard Rider for Supplemental or Standby Service – Rider SS
Contract Demand per month:	Current (Per kW/kVA)	Proposed (Per kW/kVA)
Secondary	$12.54	$12.84
Primary	$11.99	$11.63
Transmission	$10.84	$10.58

Also, Company proposes text changes to the Minimum Charge provision to clarify that for a Rider SS customer, Company will bill the customer monthly for all of the charges under the customer’s applicable rate schedule, including, but not limited to, the applicable basic service charge, energy charges, and adjustment clauses. In addition to those charges, Company will bill the customer monthly a demand charge that is the greater of: (1) the customer’s total demand charge calculated under the applicable rate schedule; or (2) the demand charge calculated using the applicable demand rate shown above applied to the Contract Demand.

Temporary and/or Seasonal Electric Service - Rider TS

Availability of Service:

Current: This rider is available at the option of the Customer where Customer’s business does not require permanent installation of Company’s facilities and is of such nature to require:

- only seasonal service or temporary service, including service provided for construction of residences or commercial buildings, and where in the judgment of Company the local and system electrical facility capacities are adequate to serve the load without impairment of service to other customers; or
- where Customer has need for temporary use of Company facilities and Company has facilities it is willing to provide.

This service is available for not less than one (1) month (approximately 30 days), but when service is used longer than one (1) month, any fraction of a month’s use will be prorated for billing purposes.

Proposed: This rider is available at the option of Company where:

- Customer’s business does not require permanent installation of Company’s facilities excluding service provided for construction of permanent delivery points for residences and commercial buildings, and is of such nature to require only seasonal service or temporary service; or
 - the service is over 50 kW, provided for construction purposes, and where in the judgment of Company the local and system electrical facility capacities are adequate to serve the load without impairment of service to other customers; or
 - where Customer has need for temporary intermittent use of Company facilities and Company has facilities it is willing to provide Customer for installation and operational testing of Customer’s equipment.
- This service is available for not less than one (1) month (approximately thirty (30) days), but when service is used longer than one (1) month, any fraction of a month’s use will be prorated for billing purposes. Where this service is provided under 2 or 3 above, Company will determine the term of service, which shall not exceed one (1) year.

Standard Rate for Low Emission Vehicle Service – Rate LEV

Basic Service Charge per Month:	$10.75
Energy Charge per kWh:
Off-Peak Hours	$0.05587
Intermediate Hours	$0.07763
Peak Hours	$0.14297

Proposed – This rate schedule is proposed to be eliminated. The Company will make all reasonable efforts to contact Rate LEV customers to advise them of their new rate options after the Commission approves the new rates but before they take effect (at which time Rate LEV will terminate). Because Rate RTOD-Energy is the new rate most similar to Rate LEV, the Company will automatically transfer to Rate RTOD-Energy all Rate LEV customers who have not responded to the Company’s outreach efforts by the effective date of the new rates; however, the Company will continue to make reasonable efforts to obtain those customers’ input even after the rate change.

Economic Development Rider – Rider EDR

Company proposes changes to Rider EDR’s Terms and Conditions to: (1) clarify the minimum demand required for the rider to be available to customer; (2) increase the range of certifications that can make a customer eligible for Rider EDR to include the Kentucky Business Investment Program (KBI), or the Kentucky Industrial Revitalization Act (KIRA), or the Kentucky Jobs Retention Act (KJRA), or other comparable programs approved by the Commonwealth of Kentucky; and (3) clarify that no credit under EDR will be calculated or applied to a customer’s billing in any billing month in which the customer’s metered load is less than the load required to be eligible for either Brownfield Development or Economic Development.

For all other Customers not classified herein, the deposit will be no more than 2/12 of Customer’s actual or estimated annual bill where bills are rendered monthly.
Proposed Rate:
For Customers Served Under Residential Service Rates RS, RTOD-Energy, and RTOD-Demand:	$160.00
For Customers Served Under General Service Rate GS:	$240.00
For all other Customers not classified herein, the deposit will be no more than 2/12 of Customer’s actual or estimated annual bill where bills are rendered monthly.

Terms and Conditions – Customer Responsibilities

Adding the following provision that could result in a charge to certain customers:

Changes in Service

Where Customer is receiving service and desires relocation or change in facilities not supported by additional load, Customer is responsible for the cost of the relocation or change in facilities through a Non-Refundable Advance.

Terms and Conditions – Budget Payment Plan

Current:

Company’s Budget Payment Plan is available to any residential customer or general service customer. Under this plan, a customer may elect to pay, each billing period, a budgeted amount in lieu of billings for actual usage. A customer may enroll in the plan at any time.

Proposed:

Company’s Budget Payment Plan is available to any residential customer served under Residential Service Rate RS or any general service customer served under General Service Rate GS. If a residential customer, who is currently served under Residential Service Rate RS and is currently enrolled in the Budget Payment Plan, elects to take service under Residential Time-of-Day Energy Service Rate RTOD-Energy or Residential Time-of-Day Demand Service Rate RTOD-Demand, such customer would be removed from the Budget Payment Plan and restored to regular billing. Under this plan, a customer may elect to pay, each billing period, a budgeted amount in lieu of billings for actual usage. A customer may enroll in the plan at any time.

Kentucky Utilities Company also proposes to change the text of the following electric tariffs: Residential Service Rate RS, General Service Rate GS, All Electric School Rate AES, Time-of-Day Primary Service Rate TODP, Retail Transmission Service Rate RTS, Lighting Service Rate LS, Restricted Lighting Service Rate RLS, Special Charges, Curtailable Service Rider CSR10, Curtailable Service Rider CSR30, Net Metering Service Rate NMS, Supplemental or Standby Service Rider SS, Temporary and/or Seasonal Service Rider TS, Economic Development Rider, Low Emission Vehicle Service Rate LEV, Demand Side Management Cost Recovery Mechanism DSM, Environmental Cost Recovery Surcharge ECR, and the Terms and Conditions.

Changes to the Terms and Conditions include the addition of a section on Company as a Federal Contractor, meter placement, proposed clarifications on terms and conditions specific to residential electric service, and expanded options for the Company to provide written notice for discontinuance of service due to nonpayment or non-compliance.

Complete copies of the proposed tariffs containing text changes and proposed rates may be obtained by contacting Edwin R. Staton, Kentucky Utilities Company at 220 West Main Street, Louisville, Kentucky, 502-627-4314, or visiting Kentucky Utilities Company’s website at www.lge-ku.com.

The foregoing rates reflect a proposed annual increase in revenues of approximately 9.6% to Kentucky Utilities Company.

The estimated amount of the annual change and the average monthly bill to which the proposed electric rates will apply for each electric customer class is as follows:

The rates contained in this notice are the rates proposed by Kentucky Utilities Company; however, the Public Service Commission may order rates to be charged that differ from the proposed rates contained in this notice.

Notice is further given that any corporation, association, body politic or person with a substantial interest in the matter may by written request, within thirty (30) days after publication of the notice of the proposed rate changes, request to intervene. The request shall be submitted to the Public Service Commission, P. O. Box 615, Frankfort, Kentucky 40602, and shall set forth the grounds for the request, including the status and interest of the party. Intervention may be granted beyond the thirty (30) day period for good cause shown, however, if the Commission does not receive a written request for intervention within thirty (30) days of initial publication, the Commission may take final action on the application. Any person who has been granted intervention may obtain copies of the application and any other filing made by the utility by contacting Edwin R. Staton, Vice President – State Regulation and Rates, Kentucky Utilities Company, c/o LG&E and KU Energy LLC, 220 West Main Street, Louisville, Kentucky, 502-627-4314.

A copy of the application and testimony shall be available for public inspection at the office of Kentucky Utilities Company, 100 Quality Street, Lexington, Kentucky.

A copy of the application and testimony shall also be available for public inspection at the offices of the Kentucky Public Service Commission located at 211 Sower Boulevard, Frankfort, Kentucky, Monday through Friday, 8:00 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., or through the commission’s Web site at <http://psc.ky.gov>. Comments regarding the application may be submitted to the Public Service Commission through its Web site or by mail to Public Service Commission, Post Office Box 615, Frankfort, Kentucky 40602.

A copy of this Notice and the proposed tariff, once filed, shall also be available for public inspection on Kentucky Utilities Company’s website at www.lge-ku.com, or through the Public Service Commission’s website at <http://psc.ky.gov>.

Lee County District Court

A session of Lee District Court was held Friday, November 14, with Judge William D. “Bo” Leach presiding. The cases published here are those that showed some movement.

Arraignment/hearing docket: Upon the recommendation of the Commonwealth, the case against Michael R. Dunaway (1963) was dismissed.

The insurance matter concerning Michael Phillips (1962) is complete.

The insurance matter concerning Gary W. Caudill (1970) is complete.

A warrant of arrest was issued for April J. Phillips (1989). A review of insurance had been scheduled.

A warrant of arrest was issued for Corina Hall (1977). A review of insurance had been scheduled.

A warrant of arrest was issued for Bonnie J. Dunaway (1977). A review of insurance had been scheduled.

Casey E. Wise (1990) pled guilty to careless driving and possession of drug paraphernalia. Fines totaled $200 plus costs.

The insurance matter concerning Mark Coffin (1987) is complete.

A warrant of arrest was issued for Daryl W. Lewis, Jr. A review of insurance had been scheduled.

A warrant of arrest was issued for Jesse P. Thacker (1981). A review of insurance had been scheduled.

Upon the recommendation of the Commonwealth, the case against Sarah D. Roberts (1986) was dismissed with proof.

A warrant of arrest was issued for Sarah Abner (1986). The charges are: obstructed vision and/or windshield, no insurance, failure to produce insurance card and failure to notify address change to Department of Transportation.

Amanda J. McCoy (1983) pled guilty to DUI. McCoy was fined $200 plus costs and a service fee. She lost her license for 90 days, and must attend alcohol/drug education. She entered the same plea in another case with the same charge. The fine, costs, loss of license and education were the same as in the other case.

In the case against Justin Ray Olinger (1993), the judge noted, “Clerk may accept rest. of 1000 or plus 5% payable to Greg Wathen. Defendant to pay $100 per month.” A preliminary hearing had been scheduled. The charges are: burglary in the third degree, criminal trespass in the second degree, criminal mischief in the second degree and public intoxication with a controlled substance.

The case against Cody D. Campbell (1991) was bound over to the Lee County Grand Jury. The charge is custodial interference.

The case against Amanda Hogan (1983) was dismissed per a plea in another case.

Adrian Scott (1945) entered an Alford Plea of guilt to the charge of criminal trespass in the second degree. An Alford Plea is where the defendant maintains his/her innocence, but believes a jury would find him/her guilty based on the evidence.

A warrant of arrest was issued for Geary Ross (1945). The charges are: no insurance, no/expired registered plate and terroristic threatening in the third degree.

Upon the recommendation of the Commonwealth, the two cases against Jason Morris (1980) were dismissed.

A warrant of arrest was issued for Raigan Griffin (1994). The charge is harassment – no physical contact.

Upon the recommendation of the Commonwealth, the case against Travis Phillips (1985) was dismissed without prejudice. The judge noted on the docket that a warrant of arrest is issued for Arlie Drake for failure to answer subpoena.

Upon the recommendation of the Commonwealth, the case against Kenneth Silcox (1974) was dismissed without prejudice.

A diversion order was entered in the case of Tonya Lambert (1982). The charge was theft by unlawful taking or shoplifting under $500.

James P. Elam (1977) pled guilty to DUI. The fine was $200 plus costs and a service fee. Elam lost his license for 120 days, and must attend alcohol/drug education.

A warrant of arrest was issued for Nevin Quinn Olinger (1993). A docket memo notes that a cell phone was to be returned to Autumn Cross or $230 in restitution paid. In another case Olinger owes $90 in restitution.

Upon recommendation of the Commonwealth, the two cases against Cephus Ray Fox (1955) were dismissed without prejudice. A note on the docket says that a warrant of arrest was to be issued for Linville Tutt for failure to answer a subpoena in one case. Another note says that a warrant was to be issued for Shonda Tutt for the same reason.

A warrant of arrest was issued for Hope Michelle Evans (1984). The charge is public intoxication with a controlled substance.

Upon the recommendation of the Commonwealth, the charge of assault in the fourth degree against Dustin Rogers Lovins (no year given) was dismissed without prejudice. A diversion order was entered on the charge of disorderly conduct in the first degree.

Mark D. Deaton (1963) pled guilty to theft by unlawful taking shoplifting under $500. A conditional discharge order was entered.

A warrant of arrest was issued for James Robert Collins (1980). The charges are: DUI, possession of an open alcohol beverage container in a motor vehicle, no insurance and failure to produce insurance card.

Show cause deferred/installment payment docket: A warrant of arrest was issued for Chasity (Barrett) Tays (1975). Tays owes $540.

Almost all of the other cases were continued until December 2.

Distracted Driving Tour Program

Submitted by Lee County High School

On Monday, November 10, 2014, Lee County High School students participated in the Distracted Driving Tour Program. This program came highly recommended by other school districts and was paid for by donations from individuals and businesses. The program is intended to encourage our students to make safe decisions while driving, and if we can save one life it will be worth it!

The day began with senior and freshman viewing a one hour presentation on the hazards of texting and driving. The presenter shared his personal experience with an accident he was involved in where texting and driving where the cause of the accident. After the seniors and freshman left the gym, sophomores and juniors attended the same program.

After the presentation, Freshman, Sophomores, Juniors, and Seniors attended a simulation session. The simulation session consisted of a video driving simulation that had students experience what could happen if they look away from the road to answer a text while driving. Another driving simulator was set up that gave students the experience of what it would be like to drive in hazardous weather conditions or under the influence. At the end of this session, students were given the option to answer as drug and alcohol survey.

Freshman Casey Clibern said, "The program made me think about being careful while driving. Made me think twice before I do something." Senior Cody Jewell said, "The program was cool, and it was very informative and realistic as to what these experiences would be like."

A field trip to a field

By Shelbi Stamper

Southside Elementary students got to take a very educational but fun field trip (actually to a field) to the Owsley County High School. The Future Farmers of America (FFA) students there grow nutritious foods in the fields. We learned that the FFA provides their schools cafeteria with fruits and vegetables. They also provide some things to our schools' cafeteria. The FFA teacher, Ms. Bingham, said they had ten acres of land but sweet and had sweet rewards. We each got to sample watermelon, jellies and jams, sorghum (molasses) and salsa. We also got to take home a little pumpkin. Thanks to all of the FFA students for your hard work because it paid off. We enjoyed the trip and it was not only educational, but fun. It was cool to learn how you can grow nutritious foods with your own two hands. We would also like to thank all of you who made this trip possible.

Thumbs Up-Green Thumbs J

and fields that the students of Owsley County High School work and grow a variety of fruits and vegetables. This teaches all of the students that they can make a living out in the fields and also that it is not easy being a farmer. (If you've ever worked in the garden you know what I mean.) But it is very rewarding watching things grow then being able to eat it (like yummy corn). It is also rewarding to give to those who may be in need or to sell your produce for money at a farmers market.

The field trip was short

Chapter 10

"OK, Chloe," I said, giving my best pep talk as we waited to be called onstage to perform our song and dance. "It's the moment of truth. Remember, whatever happens, we did our best." "Contestant number 27," we heard the announcer say. Chloe and I walked onstage and looked at the three judges. One judge was the governor of Kentucky, another was a cute blond girl who'd starred in several movies, and the third judge was a local guy from the electric company. We sang a medley of folk songs. We started with Hot Corn, Cold Corn, then transitioned into Big Rock Candy Mountain, and finished off with Honey in the Rock. Since Dad had bought me a contraption that held the harmonica to my mouth, I was able to sing, play the harmonica and the dulcimer at the same time while Chloe clogged. I kept a groovin' rhythm going, making sure the beat was not too fast or not too slow. In camp we learned that even while we are playing music, we must listen. Chloe listened carefully and clogged perfectly to the beat. The judges had smiles on their faces, and I saw the guy from the electric company tapping his feet and trying to stay in rhythm with us! As we held out the last note on the harmonica and dulcimer, the audience gave us a rousing ovation. We even heard a deep voice in the back yell "encore!" Soon all of the contestants stood onstage waiting for the judges to tally the results. As I waited for the emcee to announce the Craftiest Kentuckian grand champion,

I thought about the past several weeks. Oddly enough, a man we first misjudged as a burglar who was stealing ended up being a generous man who gave us so much. "Ladies, gentlemen, we have a winner for the 2014 Craftiest Kentuckian grand champion." The crowd cheered. "Honorable mention goes to ..." Thanks to Mr. B., we had learned about the rich ancestry of Kentucky. We now understood how immigrants from Scotland, Ireland, Germany and England settled in the Appalachian Mountains of Kentucky. Life was much harder for them than it is for us now. While I had everything I needed, these folks didn't even have necessities like brooms. They had to use the resources from Mother Nature to create those necessities—and not only did they make them useful, they made them beautiful. Those beautiful and useful creations are now our treasured folk art. "The Craftiest Kentuckian Third-Place Award goes to ..." More than anything, I was so thankful our ancestors loved and cared for the stories, music, art, medicine, hobbies and traditions so much that they made sure to pass them down through generations for hundreds of years. I was going to do my part to make sure they continued to be passed down. "The Craftiest Kentuckian Second-Place Award goes to ..." Still, I couldn't put my finger on one specific thing that made Kentucky so special. And then it came to me. Too excited to wait and tell Chloe after the awards, I whispered to her as we stood on stage. "Chloe, it isn't one thing that makes Kentucky so special, it's many things. It's the different regions, the different landscape, the different dialect and different talents. It's our resources, our traditions, and most of all it's our people—people who love Kentucky and are proud of its history and heritage. It's the people who give back to Kentucky since Kentucky's given so much to them." "And now for the grand prize. The winner will be invited to the Governor's Mansion, preside as grand marshal of the state parade, be an honored guest at the Kentucky Derby, and receive two nights at a Kentucky state park. Ladies and gentlemen, the 2014 Craftiest Kentuckian grand champion is ..." "I am so proud to be part of the rich tradition and heritage of Kentucky. Aren't you, Chloe? Just thinking about it gives me goose bumps." Obviously I was whispering too loud because the emcee said, "Contestant number 27, have you heard a word I've spoken?" There were chuckles from the entire room. I looked at Chloe and she smiled. Embarrassed, I cleared my throat and said, "No, sir. I'm sorry. I was just thinking about our state and telling my sister how proud I am to be a Kentuckian." "That's very nice, son, but do you think you could stop talking for a moment while I announce the grand champion for the second time?" the emcee asked as he winked and smiled. "Are you two ready to listen?" "Yes, sir," I said proudly. "We're all ears!" THE END Thanks for reading the 2014 newspaper chapter story. We hope you collected each chapter and made the We're All Ears book to read over and over. We hope you enjoyed learning about our state as much as we did. ~ Woody and Chloe
